

Sig Kufferath, the Santa Clara resident who last week offered his services to Los Gatos-Saratoga Recreation District as a ju jitsu instructor, is a former Honolulu Police Department instructor in that field.

He told Recreation Superintendent Gene Goldberg that he holds a fifth degree black belt gained over 23 years' experience and conducted his own classes for 20 years during which time he instructed members of the Honolulu Police Department.

The offer was accompanied by 15 signatures. Goldberg and the board are studying the suggestion, one of the concerns being the difference between ju jitsu and judo.

According to Webster's Dictionary the two words mean the same thing—the Japanese system of attack and defense, based on a form of physical culture, combined with a
